Time Out Spots offer solution to time out problems

Created by a teacher turned mother, Time Out Spots are designed to be the solution to unsuccessful timeouts. The rugs, available in pink and blue, are designed to help discipline children ages 18 months and up.

"When children misbehave, they should be given one warning. If they don't obey, they should be sent to sit on the Time Out Spot," says founder Heather Sievers, who adds that one minute of time out is recommended for each year of the child's age.

Time Out Spots are 27-in. in diameter and are machine washable. They have a non-skid back so children can't move them around the room easily during a time out. Time Out Spots carry a suggested retail price of between $22 and $25. The "Spots" come bagged with a matching hangtag and ribbon closure.

Soft Giggles introduces folding potty training seat

Soft Giggles, a division of Ginsey Industries, Inc., offers folding potty training seats in a variety of licensed designs including Spongebob, Dora the Explorer, Blues Clues, Bob the Builder, and Sesame Street.

The folding potty seats flip open and stay locked open for ease of use. The company reports the potty training seats are useful for training at home, while traveling, or while visiting away from home.

Suggested retail price for the seats is $9.99.
