Time Out Spots

The time tested effectiveness of "Time-Outs" is one of the staples of parenthood. The technique of removing a child from a moment of misbehavior, a potentially harmful or even explosive situation for a period of time has saved many children and parents from themselves. Often parents randomly select a corner or a chair which is then assigned as the Time Out spot. This new rug, which comes in three colors, can now become THE time-out spot in your home. When your child is sent to the mat, they can be sure that they are there for one reason and one reason only. Parent testers felt that this would significantly heighten the importance of the situation thus requiring the child to examine the circumstances that led them to their Time Out Spot.
